So, he had sat at the table and then he is like, he looked at me and he said hey, and I looked at him. I didn't say anything back. He said what are you doing tonight and I was like I, like, I really didn't know how to respond. I was like I don't know, what do you mean? And he said, so when are you going to come over and pick my cotton and after he said that I immediately was already angry about everything else,

1 so I tried to reach across the table and try and, you
2 know, I guess do something. My friend, not my friends
3 because they laughed, they thought it was funny, but
4 they pulled me back and after that I started sobbing
5 and he started just laughing, like, really, really
6 loudly. Like, I've never heard a laugh like that. It
7 was just, like, very loud laughing as if, like, you
8 think you can do something to me but you can't.

22 Q. Just so it's clear, so how did you feel when 23 he said that to you?

24 A. I was heartbroken. I was heartbroken not 25 even just because of what he said, just because the

1 reaction to the other students, and also, I was scared
2 at that moment just because I've never heard someone
3 laugh like that. So, I was, I was terrified that 4 someone, you know, at that moment, like, would come to 5 my space out of nowhere and just, you know, say
6 something to me of that, like that. You know what I
7 mean? So, I was, I was pretty much heartbroken at 8 that moment.

9 CONTINUATION OF DIRECT EXAMINATION

10 BY MR. CURRAN:

11 Q. What was it about the laughter that made you
12 scared?

13 A. It was menacing. It was very loud. It was 14 booming. I remember it, it make, that's what made me
15 start crying because I immediately, I knew why he was 16 laughing. He was laughing because he knew I couldn't 17 do anything to stop him. And at, like, as soon as 18 that registered with me, that's when I kind of just 19 walked away and I didn't come to school for about a 20 week after.

21
22
23
24
25

11 Q. And how did Fields feel about white people,
12 especially towards the end of high school, who didn't
13 agree with him on his racial views?

14 A. He wanted them to die as well. You know, he 15 thought that there had to be an uprising. He talked a
16 lot about some kind of, like, revolution that, he kept
17 saying that eventually that the minorities were going
18 to take over the United States, there's going to be 19 more minorities than white people. So, white people
20 need to, like, wake up and realize that so we can 21 exterminate, you know, the colors and the gays. He 22 said that a lot. So, yeah, he, yeah.

10 Q. And what was it about the country that he 11 was expressing to you that was a problem that needed
12 to be changed?

13 A. He specifically, you know, had mentioned
14 several groups of people who he thought were the 15 reason for all of the bad things that were happening
16 in this country, and it was you know, these groups of 17 people that were the reason and they were the cause,
18 and they were one of the things that needed to be
19 changed to make the United States a better place.

20 Q. And what groups of people would he refer to?

21 A. He referred to Jewish individuals, African 22 Americans and Muslims for the most part or Islamic 23 people.

24 Q. Was it limited to those groups?

25 A. It was not limited to those groups, but it

1 was, you know, he would occasionally mention, you
2 know, homosexuals or you know, people that are in the,
3 you know, LGBT people, but for the most part, you
4 know, it was really on the basis of African Americans
5 and Muslims, those were his two, you know, bug points
6 that he would always tend to make.

7 Q. And you mentioned Jews as well?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. How often would he raise this topic?

10 A. The topic of these groups was a reoccurring
11 conversation. It seemed like any time that we would 12 talk about politics, it would come up.

1 A. His response for a solution was always
2 violence. I would try to reason with him and say that
3 you ought to, if you want something to change, you
4 should vote for it. That is you know, that is your 5 right to vote for it, but his, he would always be 6 determined that violence was the answer to his 7 problems.

8 Q. And so violence towards these groups is that
9 what you are saying?

10 A. Violence towards the groups as well as 11 violence in the streets.

12 Q. Explain that a little further. What was he 13 advocating or what was he describing?

14 A. He never made real specific points towards 15 genocide of these groups, but he said enough that any 16 intelligent person could see that that is what he was 17 referencing to of these groups. He would, you know,
18 never mentioned the, you know, extermination of you
19 know, whether it African Americans or any, anybody
20 that was a part of that grouping, but he said enough
21 to where you could see that is where he was going with 22 the conversation, and I never let him get that far
23 into the conversation to find out what, you know, how 24 far he was going to go with that, his solution. He 25 would talk a lot about violence in the streets, and I,

1 and he, his you know, his idea of solution was that we
2 needed some sort of rebellion against the system or 3 you know, that the government or how he would want to 4 put it, that was his, his way of you know, just
5 expressing it, and he said violence was the answer
6 that we couldn't do it politically any more.

23 A. And he would always make a reference to what 24 Hitler did as the solution to our problems. So, if 25 you know, he, like I said, he never exactly mentioned

1 genocide, but he would always make a point of 2 mentioning what Hitler and the Third Reich did as
3 being a possible solution for our, for the American
4 situation.

A. He, he just was kind of just overall giddy, like I said. You walked through the doors and I overheard him say this is where the magic happened.

Q. This is where the magic happened?

A. Yes.

Q. And what was his ...

A. He was happy. He was emotionally, he was happy in one of the saddest places I have ever been.

Q. Some people have a dark sense of humor. Was he making a joke?

A. This is not something you joke about. You can have the darkest sense of humor, but ...

Q. But you did not perceive him to be joking?

A. No, not one bit.

Q. And did he do anything physically as he

1 entered the camp?

2 A. As he entered the camp, not exactly. But as
3 we kind of separated from the group, kind of went off
4 on our own ways and were able to experience it as our
5 own instead of as a group, I witnessed James skipping
6 up and down the train tracks that ran through the 7 center of the camp.

8 Q. And what was the demeanor as he, skipping
9 probably ...

10 A. Like a kid at Disney World. Like he was 11 loving it.

12 Q. Did you have any other encounters with him
13 within the camp that stand out to you?

14 A. I specifically remember walking over towards 15 the southeastern part of the camp which is where they 16 had the gas chambers.

17 Q. Gas chambers or crematorium or do you?

18 A. It was, I believe it was a gas chamber. I
19 don't believe they had a crematorium at this camp. If 20 they did, that would have been on the, that would have 21 been on this part of the camp. I don't think ...

22 Q. What's your recollection?

23 A. But we walked into this room where like an 24 immeasurable amount of lives had been taken. And 25 James is in there and he walks over to me and says

1 it's almost like you can still hear them screaming.

2 Q. And what was his demeanor at that point?

3 A. Same demeanor as before. It's, wow, it's 4 almost like you can still hear them screaming.

5 Q. And you just did a particular voice. This 6 won't show up on the record, but.

7 A. Yes, it was, the voice was elated and happy.
8 Getting enjoyment out of it.
